REGION OF THE YEAR

Following the introduction of 'Region of the Year' in 2015, the spirit of friendly competition has never been stronger within NASMA. This award not only provides bragging rights for the victors, but also continues to raise the bar in terms of collaboration and engagement by members at a regional level.

All regions are automatically considered for this award. Regional Chairs are invited to submit supplementary information to be considered by the panel.

The winner will be decided by the NASMA Office Team who will consider a number of factors in their decision making, including levels of engagement at the regional level, regional members supporting peers, regional links with external organisations, regional representation on NASMA committees etc.
