

STUDENT MONEY ADVICE AWARD WINNERS 2025

NASMA's Student Money Advice Awards are a great opportunity to celebrate our members' achievements and end the academic year with praise and congratulations for the amazing accomplishments and innovative work that we see our members deliver, year after year.

Our awards this year are no exception. The judging panel reviewed and deliberated fiercely over some amazing nominations in order to narrow down the very competitive field into an amazing set of winners that we are delighted to announce.

ANDREW PERRY MEMORIAL AWARD:
FUND ADMINISTRATOR OF THE YEAR
Catherine Hollier
University of the West of England (Bristol)

STUDENT MONEY ADVISER OF THE YEAR
Carmen McLean
Leeds Conservatoire

TEAM OF THE YEAR
Student Money Advice and Rights Team:
International Funding
University of East London

INNOVATIVE PROJECT
Student Funding Support
University of Warwick

HIGHLY COMMENDED
Sarah McDougall
Edinburgh University Students' Association

REGION OF THE YEAR
SCOTLAND

Huge congratulations to all of our winners, but also to our shortlisted nominees, who were shortlisted in spite of some fierce competition. Our awards this year have been sponsored by Save the Student and we are thrilled to have their support. We would also like to thank our judging panel who had the unenviable task of reviewing some amazing nominations. Kellie McAlonan, NASMA Chair, Tom Allingham from Save the Student and David Marshall from the JS Group.